

Prevention & Education

Prevention specialists provide school and community site curriculum-based education and activities for youth and adolescents. The Choices Program offers a customized counseling and prevention curriculum for high school campuses.

Community Education Workshops

CEU and community workshops are available year-round for behavioral healthcare professionals, teachers, students, business groups, and individuals.

Specialized Services for Women

We understand that women - particularly pregnant women or new mothers - have needs that require special care when dealing with an addiction. The Council on Recovery offers outpatient care for women that can include case management, parenting resources, and social activities.

Child and Adolescent Services

We provide services to adolescents in need of treatment and support pertaining to alcohol, drugs, and other compulsive behaviors. For young children who often suffer the most from another's substance abuse we offer counseling and other targeted children's services, including Kids Camp at The Council, a four-day prevention and support program.

Specialized Services for Older Adults

The Council offers The Wellderly Program to help seniors, their families, and their caregivers address substance abuse issues.

THE COUNCIL ON RECOVERY

You know someone who needs us.

We can help. 713.942.4100

The Council on Recovery, provides outpatient treatment services for addiction and related issues to the Houston communities.

We offer support, information, and treatment to all who may be adversely affected by alcohol, drugs, and addiction-related issues and are committed to providing the highest quality of care at affordable rates to our clients and their loved ones.

The Council on Recovery guides individuals and families towards the path to recovery by providing the following programs and services:

- ▶ Prevention & Education
- ▶ Interventions
- ▶ Intensive Outpatient Treatment
- ▶ Individual, Family and Group Therapy
- ▶ Aftercare and Recovery Support Services
- ▶ Family Programs
- ▶ Specialized Services for Women
- ▶ Child and Adolescent Services
- ▶ Specialized Services for Older Adults

Please contact us for more details.

Individual, Family & Group Therapy

The Council provides additional outpatient services for our clients to visit their therapist and attend groups at regular intervals. This way they receive the behavioral therapy they need to overcome an addiction and stay on the path of recovery.

In addition, we offer unique intensive and supportive outpatient services to individuals and families within the context of their family of origin and current family systems through our Center for Recovering Families' Healing Choices® program.

Intensive Outpatient Program

Intensive outpatient treatment can be a first step in seeking help or a step-down program after completion of residential care. Our intensive outpatient program provides structure and support while clients establish a solid foundation for recovery.

Family Treatment and Recovery Services

Recovery from addiction and related issues can be a difficult process for everyone, family members included.

Finding healing and renewal can feel scary at first – not just for the addicted individual – but for children, parents, spouses and other loved ones.

Statistics show a greater rate of success when a family participates in the recovery process.

The Council on Recovery considers each family member a critical component of our treatment services. Our unique and nationally recognized adult outpatient program and family therapy services have proven highly effective in reducing relapse and interrupting addiction's tragic family legacy.

We offer many programs that uniquely serve the family in a safe and supportive environment including:

- ▶ Interventions
- ▶ Center for Recovering Families
- ▶ Child and Adolescent Programs
- ▶ Specialized Services for Women
- ▶ Specialized Services for Seniors
